DOCKET 07-BSTD-1
DATE	JAN 0 8 2008
REC'D	JAN 0 8 2008

I just got done reading the following article and have to say I'm pretty shocked by it.

http://www.americanthinker.com/2008/01/who\_will\_control\_your\_thermostat.html

The state or anyone else for that matter has NO BUSINESS telling me what I can and can not do in my home! Regulating my temperature when they see fit? You're kidding me? What's next turning off my lights when it fits them?

The problem is not me adjusting my temperature, my lights or anything else for that matter. The problem is a growing population and not enough power. Solution? Build more power plants! Nuclear technology, clean coal are solutions, wind power is not going to cut it.

This "standard" needs to be rejected and taken out of the title 24.
