To Whom It May Concern:

You're going to put wireless controls on a device in my home and you think you are going to get away with that.

Clearly some of the crap the state has been doing is communist and clearly against all constitutional rights. The government works at the behest of the people, not the other way around.

Some of our business associates packed up and moved to Nevada and Washington. One group moved to Texas.

Now I've also had enough and we are going to prepare to move our business and home out of this scary state.

I can see that the next legislation will be laws regulating that we use a specific brand of toilet paper, how many sheets we can use, and how much we can pee at one time.

You people are true nut cases.

Name withheld for obvious reasons!
