Subject: Fwd: Proposal for "smart thermostats"

The California Energy Commission has exceeded its authority and its common sense while violating some basic civil rights in this proposal, and we am overwhelmingly concerned over the precedent it sets. I would urge the Commission to step back from the role of Big Brother of which this proposal so strongly smacks. A good many of us do our best to conserve energy all year round, and if we are appalled at this proposal, you know it's not a good one. Good grief.
