Dear Sir or Madame,

Please consider the impact the new energy plant planned by NRG in Carlsbad California. Last week in Pennsylvania a similar plant to the one being proposed caught on fire and five people were killed. Remember: a plant with a similar design. The similarity is an issue to me because of the following reasons:

1. The (similar) plant in Pennsylvania was located in a remote, industrial zone.
2. NRG's plant is not.
3. Five people were killed.
4. And I'm sure you know the age old adage "fire and California just don't mix."

Don't put this plant near homes and schools.

Thanks for you time,

Lisa
